

Privacy Policy

Breaking Barriers values your privacy. This Privacy Notice applies to your general use of the Site.

Breaking Barriers may collect information that you provide us when you interact with our Site. For example:

- We collect your information which is submitted through the various contact forms on the site.
- We can save your correspondence along with name and contact information when you write to us through the mail or email, and we use this to respond to your questions and comments.
- We may see and collect your name, profile and other information that may be accessible when you connect with us on social media (such as Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Tiktok and Instagram). But bear in mind that your use of those third party platforms is subject solely to the third party privacy and other terms. Breaking Barriers is not responsible for your use of social media platforms to connect with us.
- Our Website and its content are for informational and educational purposes only. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we expressly exclude any liability for any direct, indirect or consequential loss or damage incurred by you or others in connection with our website and its content. This including without limitation any liability for any accidents, delays, injuries, harm, loss, damage, death, lost profits, personal or business interruptions, misapplication of information, physical or mental disease, condition or issue, physical, mental, emotional, or spiritual injury or harm, loss of income or revenue, loss of business, loss of profits or contracts, anticipated savings, loss of data, loss of goodwill, wasted time and for any other loss or damage of any kind, however and whether caused by negligence, breach of contract, or otherwise, even if foreseeable. You specifically acknowledge and agree that we are not liable for any defamatory, offensive, or illegal conduct of any other website participant or user, including you.

BREAKING BARRIERS

MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING

If you have questions about our Privacy Policy, please contact us at info@breakingbarrierscounselingny.com